ARLINGTON ELKS CELEBRATE ITS FIRST BIRTHDAY

Thursday marked the first anniversary of Arlington Lodge of Elks, and the members of the order from far and near assembled in Menotomy (Old Town) Hall, to help the local lodge celebrate. From a small baby Elk of a year ago, Arlington Lodge has grown very rapidly to a full grown Elk and recognized throughout the state as one of the most progressive lodges in existence.

Thursday night's program was a varied and very interesting one from start to finish. The meeting was open to Elks only and the hall was filled to its capacity. Officers from the lodges in surrounding sections were present as well as high officers of the order and during the evening there were a number of speeches.

Dr. William E. Denvir, E. R., of the lodge presided over the ceremonies. Interspersing the short speeches, there was a vaudeville program of professional talent from the Boston theatres and the evening was voted one of the most interesting that the lodge has ever held.

ARLINGTON WOMAN'S CLUB

"The Bible as Literature" will be the subject of the lecture to be given by Dr. Kirsopp Lake, at the meeting of the club next Thursday afternoon, in Robbins Memorial Town Hall. Miss Carmela Ippolito, violinist, will give selections.

Out of a club membership of 700, 651 have registered and so have become legal voters of the town of Arlington. At the State election this fall 550 of the members of the club voted.

PEIRCE & WINN COAL CO. ENTERTAIN EMPLOYEES

American Legion Headquarters in Associates Building, was turned over to the Peirce & Winn Coal Company, on Thursday evening, when the members of the firm, Mr. Warren A. Peirce and Mr. Walter Peirce had as their guests, the men in their employ, together with their wives, and families, with clerks in the office, which made a company of about one hundred.

The firm has been doing this pleasant thing for the past fifteen years, and that it is appreciated was evident from the spirit of cooperation and kindness that permeated the gathering Thursday evening.

A varied and most enjoyable entertainment was furnished by Harrell, musical magician of Boston, also violin and vocal numbers contributed by Stella Marek Cushing, accompanied at the piano by Miss Abbie Hesselstine, at the conclusion of which Mr. W. A. Clark, president of the New England Coal Dealers' Association, spoke briefly of the problems of the dealers at the present time one of which is the foisting of non-combustible coal, upon the market, by some dishonest distributors.

The evening closed with the serving of sandwiches, coffee, doughnuts, cheese, ice cream and cake with a pound box of chocolates to the ladies and cigars to the men. Music from a Victrola added to the enjoyment of the social hour.

The Messrs. Peirce were assisted in entertaining by their wives, who were each presented with a basket of roses from their guests.

BOY SCOUTS GIVE FINE EXHIBITION IN TOWN HALL

The several troops of Arlington Boy Scouts under direction of Commissioners and officers, celebrated the thirtieth anniversary of establishing the Scout movement by a highly successful presentation of their team work in Robbins Memorial Town Hall, last evening.

A fine audience on floor and in galleries greeted the young people and the exercises were made more enjoyable because of orchestral music, supplied by a group of Scouts, that had been trained and were directed by Miss Evelyn Raymond, a teacher in Junior High school.

Scoutmaster Bacon had the exercises in charge, but in carrying out the program was ably assisted by Commissioner H. L. Frost, Selectmen Devereaux Higgins and Crosby, Judge Parmenter, Judge Brackett, Messrs. William D. Elwell and G. B. C. Rugg.

Nearly every feature of Scout work was shown, by means of a sort of playlets, and pledges forms of organization and other features entertainingly given, the whole making a fine entertainment. A full report will be given next week.

SEARCHLIGHT CLUB FORMED

Some thirty women responded to the invitation to meet at the home of Mrs. Arthur A. Lawson on Thursday afternoon, when plans were to be considered as to the forming of a club the object of which is to stimulate interest in civic affairs, through impartial investigation and the free discussion of political and social questions.

Miss Florence Liscomb, acting manager of the Boston Woman's League of Voters, was introduced by Mrs. Lawson who related her recent experience as a candidate for the Boston City Council, which was most illuminating. Mrs. Jessica Henderson, was present at the meeting, and entered in the discussion.

It was voted to form such a club and most of the ladies present joined at that time. Officers were elected as follows:—President, Mrs. Arthur A. Lawson; Vice-President, Mrs. Frederick A. Sawyer; Recording Secretary, Mrs. M. L. Tewksbury; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Francis Maguire; Treasurer, Mrs. Herbert S. Teele; Auditor, Mrs. F. L. Dawson. The next meeting will be held the second Thursday in March, unless otherwise voted.

MELROSE HIGH DEFEATED ARLINGTON HIGH, 4 TO 1

Melrose High defeated Arlington High, 4 to 1, on Ell pond rink, Thursday afternoon. The home team scored three points in the second period and its final one in the last minute of play. Donnelly scored for Arlington in the third period.

CITIZENS OF ARLINGTON! ATTENTION.

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS

VOTE FOR CARL H. BUNKER

WHY

The attention of the voters cannot be directed too forcibly to the importance of the Board of Public Works and to the necessity of maintaining its membership of high quality. Bear in mind that the Board of Public Works is responsible for the supervision and management of our streets, sewers, and water, all of which are closely linked with the health and general welfare of the inhabitants of the town. Obviously, only men of sound judgment and practical business experience are eligible. We present a candidate who answers all of these requirements.

WHO

Mr. Carl H. Bunker, 81 Hillside Avenue, is a nominee for the vacancy on the Board of Public Works caused by the retirement of Mr. Thomas Kennedy. After a technical training at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Mr. Bunker served three years in the Engineering Department of the City of Newton. He is now Factory Superintendent of the Mellin's Food Company, Boston, Mass., and has been connected with that company for twenty-seven years.

Mr. Bunker has been a resident of this town for many years, and has always been closely identified with town affairs. During the years 1917, 1918 and 1919, he served on the Committee of Twenty-One as chairman of the sub-committee on the Board of Public Works. His excellent work on this sub-committee attracted the attention of all his associates.

The undersigned, for the committee, most heartily endorse the candidacy of Mr. Bunker, and, in the interest of good government, urge the men and women of Arlington to elect him.

EDWARD L. SHINN, Chairman.

BANQUET FOR WINNING SCOUT TROOP

At the last meeting of MYOB in January, the chairman of the Boy Scout committee reported that the commissioner had offered a flag to the troop showing the best record at the June inspection and made a motion that in order to help stimulate interest among the troops that MYOB give in addition, a banquet to the troop winning the flag. It was voted that this be done, and the Boy Scout committee, was instructed to make all arrangements to hold it at G. A. R. Hall, as soon as possible, after the June rally. The secretary was authorized to notify the Scout Commissioner to that effect.

There are nearly 40 per cent of MYOB actively engaged in Scout work now, and nearly every week, Mr. Bacon, the Scout executive, finds some work for most of the membership to do. Many of the MYOB members are former Scouts and are only too willing to help the boys out at any time, for they realize, that to them scouting was the biggest thing in life at that time, and when some of the older boys and men would go with them on their hikes and camping trips, they were happy; and the MYOB members realize that in no other way could they help the boys, as by teaching them the meaning of Brotherhood in this way.

At the banquet, a member of MYOB will sit beside every Scout and act as big brother to the Scout for that evening, and make the evening as pleasant for the boy as he can. The entertainment committee of MYOB will furnish entertainment for them during the banquet.

ARLINGTON WOMAN'S CLUB CONCERT

The last attraction of the Arlington Woman's Club for its last meeting, was a concert given on the afternoon of February 1st, in Robbins Memorial Town Hall.

The afternoon was in charge of the music committee, chairmaned by Mrs. Llewellyn Evans and there were present many club members as well as invited guests. The program had been anticipated by many who had pleasant recollection of the delightful afternoon the artists had furnished a year previous, in the series of musicales, given under auspices of the Music committee of the club. They were the Buitkan Trio, the personnel of which is Barbara Werner Schwaab, violinist, Mildred Elchler, Buitkan violin 'cellist, and Huyman Buitkan, pianist, assisted by Marion L. Hurd, soprano.

The ensemble work of the trio was much enjoyed, especially in the second and last groups, the last number, "Samson of Dalia," perhaps being the most enjoyed, because of its familiarity with the greater number of the audience. It is difficult to arrange a program to give pleasure to all, but it was accomplished at this time and the artists, for such they were, were thoroughly enjoyed by the music lovers in the audience.

Mr. Buitkan is master of his instrument. He drew from the ivory keys music that satisfied, for while his touch is delicate there is still that master touch that makes it apparent that he is in perfect tune with his instrument, which he brings into being his moods and temperament, that makes his work, that of an artist. His accomplishments were poems in themselves. Miss Hurd has one of those high voices, clear and bell like. Her diction is especially good which is one of her chief assets. Her last group of songs were most enjoyable for she sang them with great artistry. The cello playing of Miss Buitkan was greatly enjoyed. The audience was quick to note the composition of Mr. Buitkan, which was played by the cellist and demanded an encore which she gave, playing that lovely selection, "Sky Blue Waters." Miss Schwaab is a successful teacher of the violin and at this time drew from her instrument, tones that pleased lovers of this instrument. The afternoon was a musical treat. The program follows:

Trio in G Minor Berens
Allegro Andante con moto
Allegro con fuoco
Songs: "Shepherd Thy Demeanour Vary" "Phyllis Has Such Charming Graces" "En Avril" "Chere Nuit"
Violin: Romance "Serenade" "Caprice"
Trio: "Twilight" "Fairy Tale"
Piano: "Dumka" (A Russian Rustic Scene)
Cello: "A Dream" "Harlequin"
Trio: Suite de Concert "Sonnet D'Amour" "Romance et Repose" "La Caprice de Nannette"
Songs: "Dawn" "Shadows" "To A Hilltop"
Trio: "Samson et Dalia" Saint-Saens

TENNIS CLUB DANCE

Lovely toilettes, splendid music and unique decorations made the dancing party of the Arlington Heights Tennis Club given in Robbins Memorial Town Hall, on Saturday evening, of last week, a success in every particular. This was a great satisfaction to the committee, C. Frederick Evans, Edward E. Aiken and W. M. Lloyd, who had worked untiringly to give its patrons an evening that would be satisfactory in every particular and this was accomplished. The committee feel grateful to the members who so materially assisted in making the party a success by their assistance in disposing of tickets.

The club has an active membership of fifty-two and that most were in attendance with friends, was apparent, for there were one hundred and ten couples present which was the limit put by the committee, a waiting list having been created at this time.

Some special decorative scheme has usually been the custom of these parties and was carried out at this time. A miniature tennis net was stretched in the center of the floor with a court marked out on a canvas. Palms were placed about it to give the out-door atmosphere, and two tiny Gloucester hammocks were swung from either end of the court. In one a little lady (French Doll) sat keeping guard over the many trophies of individuals, won in the matches of past seasons, and opposite sat dear little Kewpie. The silver cup on which Carl Patriquin has a leg, was exhibited. To hold this cup permanently it must be won twice. The cup was presented by Mr. Arthur Wood, whose son, Marshall, won a cup the previous year, which was also exhibited at this time. The program was outlined with begonias and small palms. Here Hutchinson's augmented orchestra was stationed and that their playing was enjoyed was evident by the zest in which the dancers participated in the evening's pleasure.

Two favor dances were introduced which assisted in promoting the social atmosphere of the party, and provoked no end of merriment. In the first, grotesque fans were given the gentlemen as favors and to the ladies, more dainty ones. Later paper caps were distributed, both to the ladies and gentlemen. Those to the former were paper dolls, which when placed on the head, added not a little to the fascination of the wearer.

There were many lovely gowns noted. One of the most striking was a black and purple sequins in a beautiful design, worn over a lavender silk slip that was most becoming to the wearer, a brunette. One of the daintiest frocks was a sand and green chiffon frock with gold waist band. Several white sequins gowns were noted, that were very beautiful. A green sequins worn over a sand colored slip was most effective. There were two gowns cut with the circular skirt, the latest mode. One was of hunter's pink, combined with silver and a Rhine stone girdle. An iridescent sequins gown over a pale yellow slip with side embellishments of blue maline was effective. A gray lace over a pale flesh color slip and side decoration of silver grapes, was also a dainty gown. Another gray gown embroidered in beads was still another. A henna sequins gown embroidered in squares was becoming to the wearer.

Representative Bert S. Currier and Mrs. Currier were conspicuous among the dancers. Mrs. Currier was in gray crepe de chine, embroidered in beads.

It was a most interesting party to watch because of the lovely dressing of the ladies, who in the varied colors of their gowns made a scene very pleasing to the eye, especially when the ladies were lined up for the favor dances. At intermission the Hardy Catering Company served refreshments.

ARLINGTON BOY SCOUT NOTES

The Leaders' school was held at headquarters, Tuesday, January 30, with Vice-President Edmund L. Frost in the chair. The program included Colors, Roll Call, Art of Command, Signalling, Fire Building and Care of Fires, Games on Hikes, Knot Tying and a discussion by all on "How To Start a Tenderfoot Right." After the discussion, Scouts Frost, Nicoll and Atwood, acted as judges of the talks by each Scout and decided that the most important points were brought out by Scout Robert Sproul of Troop 6. Executive Bacon then gave the boys a short talk on leadership after which the class closed with the Scout Oath and Law. Seventeen Scouts were present from Troops 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8.

Troop 8, Scoutmaster Stephen M. Richardson, met Wednesday night, in the vestry of the Pleasant Street Congregational Church, and spent a good part of the evening preparing for the anniversary. The two patrols held a signalling contest which was won by Wolf Patrol. The skin-the-snake was then fought out by the patrols and Wolf again won, the new recruits doing fine work.

Executive Harvey H. Bacon visited each troop last week, accompanied by Scout Bugler Harry Kenowitch of Troop 6, who led the songs that were sung at many of the troops. The executive found all the troops working earnestly and enthusiastically.

Have you examined the Scout exhibit in the show window at Underwood's on Mass. avenue, near the railroad crossing? If not, have a look at it. You'll be surprised at the skill shown by the boys in making miniatures of the things they have to build in their work as Scouts. Mr. Underwood very graciously allowed the boys to put their exhibit in his window, although it took considerable valuable space. The Scouts appreciate it.

Troop 2, Trinity Baptist Church, East Arlington, has registered with 16 Scouts, Scoutmaster J. Vincent Nichols, Assistant Scoutmaster Russell A. Emmett and Troop Committee Guy E. Jones, William Corcoran and William J. Masters.

Troop 6 took in these new members, Herbert McClure, William N. Davis, and Desmond O. Anders, and Troop 8, Paul Cameron, Robert L. Jeffrey, Robert H. Bucknam, Robert W. Pond, Jr., and Edward E. Gurnsey.

Scouts at different parts of the town continued their "Good Turns" by dragging coal bags on sleds for people unable to do so themselves and by feeding the birds.

The entire eighth grade of the Hancock school, in charge of the principal, Miss Maud Adlington, visited the Lexington Savings Bank, last Monday afternoon, and spent several hours working in a real bank, during which time many thousand dollars in stage money exchanged hands. The pupils received much practical knowledge of the

WHAT ONE ARLINGTON MAN THINKS OF THE BOY SCOUTS

The following letter, received by Commissioner of Boy Scouts Harold L. Frost, shows in no uncertain terms, what one of our most public spirited citizens thinks of the Boy Scout movement. It was written in reply to an invitation to visit one of the inspections held last month.

"I have been disappointed not to be able to make my dates fit in with the one suggested in your letter of the 3rd, for the meetings of the Boy Scouts. Leaving as we do the end of the month for the south, there seem to be a great many odds and ends to take pretty much every moment of the time, but I want you to know that I am very much interested in the Boy Scouts and to feel free to call upon me for financial assistance annually, as in the past.

"With much appreciation of the amount of time and good work you are putting in, I remain,

Cordially yours,

Mead of Boston, Suffolk County, that she is administratrix of the estate of Patrick Mead, late of Arlington, in said County, as appears in Case of No. 91482 of the records of said Court, that by a decree of said Court, dated the nineteenth day of March, A. D. 1920, M. Francis Mead of Arlington in said County of Middlesex, was appointed administrator de bonis non of the Estate of Nellie Mead, and letters of administration were issued to him:

That said M. Francis Mead, in his capacity as said administrator d. b. n. of the Estate of Nellie Mead, has brought action in this Court against your petitioner, alleging that a certain legacy to said Nellie Mead in the will of said Patrick Mead, has not been paid; and further:

That said M. Francis Mead, in his said capacity, has brought or caused to be brought, proceedings in this Court to reopen the final account of Sylvester Mead, deceased, as said Sylvester was administrator of the Estate of said Nellie Mead, which final account had been duly allowed and approved by said Court.

That said M. Francis Mead, shortly after his appointment as said administrator d. b. n., wickedly and corruptly induced, persuaded and influenced his mother, Ellen Mead, to bring another action in the Superior Court in Equity for the County of Middlesex, against your petitioner herein, setting up a claim that said Sylvester Mead and James W. Mead, brothers of said M. Francis, had perpetrated a fraud upon the said Ellen Mead, by which she had been deprived and dispossessed of certain land with buildings thereon, located in said Arlington, in which said Ellen Mead was induced to execute said record in support of pertinent allegations herein contained; and further:

That said M. Francis Mead, wickedly and corruptly induced, persuaded and influenced his mother, Ellen Mead, to bring another action in the Superior Court in Equity for the County of Middlesex, against your petitioner herein, setting up a claim that said Sylvester Mead, son of said Ellen Mead, had perpetrated a fraud upon her mother, by which it was made to appear in the records of the Registry of Deeds of said County of Middlesex that said Ellen had executed a mortgage of said land in said Arlington, belonging to said Ellen, to said Sylvester, and further, that said Ellen had never signed said mortgage, nor had ever been requested so to do, that she was unable to read and write, and that said Sylvester, in effect, either had forged or procured to be forged, the name of said Ellen upon said mortgage deed; and upon the note which said mortgage was given, and which said mortgage is numbered 3947 in the records of said Superior Court, and your petitioner in due time will introduce said records in support of pertinent allegations herein contained.

That both of said actions in the Superior Court came on to be heard and were duly referred to Gilbert A. Pevey, Esq., of said County, a master, under a rule to him issued to find the facts in the matter. Both cases having been duly heard together by said master, were dismissed by decree of the court upon findings of fact made by said master and duly reported as follows:

"Upon the evidence it appears that Frank (M. Francis) Mead, the person who originated the suits in this case, saw the attorneys who appeared for the Plaintiff (Ellen Mead) and has been the active factor in all these proceedings. At the time when the Plaintiff was giving her testimony, Frank was present at her side and in her presence. Her testimony was apparently given under his influence. The Plaintiff has offered no testimony whatever in support of her allegation upon either complaint. Both the record evidence produced, as well as oral testimony of many witnesses (some of whom have been examined and cross-examined) conclusively rebutted and negated the evidence of the Plaintiff.

"I do not find that the Plaintiff has deliberately falsified (but) has found the evidence incontrovertibly show that she has been under the controlling influence of her son Frank which has led her to impute or intimate without any foundation therefor, that these two sons, Sylvester and James M., whom she so much loved—it is hard to see which one the most—had committed some wrong upon her and had taken some property from her. To the contrary it appears in evidence that these sons have acted as true sons to their mother they dearly loved, and have even sacrificed their own time and means to make her as happy as possible. Not one of her sons, not even Frank testified in the case. "The evidence by an almost overwhelming preponderance of the testimony fails to support the claim of the Plaintiff that this mortgage was prepared by Sylvester without her knowledge or consent, but on the other hand establishes the fact that this mortgage deed was prepared under the advice and influence of her son James M., who fully informed her of its meaning and significance; that she was again fully informed of its significance and meaning by Arthur K. Wellington, Esquire, whose testimony was impeached in any way;—that she was fully aware of the expense and cash outlays made by her son Sylvester in her behalf in the years before and after questioned his honesty, love and regard for her—these and other cash expenses as shown by the evidence as submitted, incurred by Sylvester in her behalf have never been repaid and as above found, more than the amount of this mortgage."

And your petitioner further represents that said M. Francis Mead, by his conduct in the foregoing matters, as found and adjudicated by the Court, has wickedly and corruptly induced, persuaded and influenced the Estate of said Patrick Mead, the Estate of said Sylvester Mead, the Estate of James M. Mead, and likewise your petitioner, as the residuary legatees of the Estate of James M. Mead, and the executor of said estate, to great expense, vexation, annoyance, delay and unjust attack, and has by his said wanton misconduct hindered and delayed his own kindred in the recovery due them under the will of said Patrick Mead and is evidently unsuitable for the discharge of said trust.

Wherefore your petitioner prays that said M. Francis Mead may be removed from his said office and trust.

Dated this Twenty-fourth day of January A. D. 1923.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS PROBATE COURT.

On the foregoing petition, the petitioner is ordered to notify said M. Francis Mead and all other persons interested, to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Cambridge, in said County of Middlesex, on the nineteenth day of February, A. D. 1923, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any, has, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted by serving said M. Francis Mead with a copy of said petition, and of this order thereof fourteen days, at least, before said Court;—and by delivering a copy thereof to all other persons interested seven days at least before said Court, or by publishing a copy thereof once in each week for three successive weeks, in the Arlington Advocate, a newspaper published in Arlington, the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court, and by mailing post-paid a copy thereof to all other persons interested, seven days at least, before said Court.

Witness, GEORGE F. LAWTON, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this twenty-seventh day of January, in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three.

RABBI S. WISE SPEAKS BEFORE A LARGE AUDIENCE AT ARLINGTON WOMAN'S CLUB FORUM

A large audience gathered in Robbins Memorial Town Hall on last Sunday afternoon, to listen to the lecture by Rabbi S. Wise, founder of the Free Synagogue of New York.

The speaker was introduced by Chester A. Moody, superintendent of Arlington schools, in a pleasant manner, reminding the audience of the speaker's world wide reputation and importance, especially among his race and enumerated some of the words that of late had been uppermost in our thoughts, among them being Americanization, and that the speaker would take for his subject, "Americanization True and False."

Rabbi Wise chose to leave the platform and speak to the audience from the floor as he put it, so as to get over that barrier of aloofness that characterized a New England audience. Rabbi Wise said instead of speaking on Americanization he should take the word, "Americanism" True and False.

Of course the theme of the whole lecture was the conditions in Europe and America's great part in it. For Rabbi Wise is of the opinion that only through America will Europe be saved from utter ruin and it may be also the saving of America as well. Our relations to Europe were pointed out as viewed by the speaker, but that many differed with his point of view was shown when at the close of his lecture an expression was asked for by the presiding officer as to a willingness to write to our president and representatives in Congress to help save Armenia. Rabbi Wise told the truth, but not all the truth. He is a magnetic and fluent speaker, but many times sarcastically tongue lashing some of the men of our country, who have for many years been foremost in its international and political life, especially our senator from Massachusetts, but coached in language that showed his oratorical ability and a reason for his popularity, as a public speaker.

Rabbi Wise stated that he and his family had traveled over Europe, had seen the terrible conditions existing in every country, and he would summarize the whole condition in three words, "deterioration," "disenchantment" and "dread." Rabbi Wise stated what we all know, that Europe is as much in war today as she was four years ago. The morale is the same now as it was after the close of the Civil War. He compared the conditions of the country at that time with those of the present. The unity has gone perhaps never to return. There is bitterness and hate and utter dissolution. This war through which we have passed was thought would be the last, and the people feel cheated because there seems to be no surety, in fact quite the reverse, but what there will be another. Europe is dominated by fear. There is nothing as intoxicating as fear and Europe is dominated by it. There is nothing so healing as contriteness, but there is none of this in Europe. They are sorry that they lost the war. There is no brotherly love as far as bringing people together in tolerance. There is no Christianity. This has all gone and the whole trouble is America.

Rabbi Wise said that we could have ended militarism forever if we had been willing to have remained in the war until the end. However, we are not through with Europe, neither is Europe through with us, because nothing is settled until settled right, and it has not been as yet. We are the only people who are able to really settle this great problem. We have the money. Should we try to collect our loans? Rabbi Wise thinks that we should not. That America would be better off if she did not insist upon the repayment of the debt incurred by Europe. Europe needs this cancellation.

Rabbi Wise charged America being dominated by a party rather than by the true spirit of Americanism. The party at present in power came in for passionate criticism, the speaker waxing warm and most sarcastic in his insinuations of some of its most influential leaders as to their policy in their alleged holding up and thwarting the plans of President Wilson. He charged the present condition of Armenia to the party lead rs who balked the plans of President Wilson in his desire to have America a part of the League of Nations.

Rabbi Wise threw out the challenge of "What are you going to do about it?" He appealed to his audience as a body of Christians. He by his religion he said was looked upon as an outsider, but he was an American first and foremost, and he asked his audience to think in the vision of the foreigner who loves to seek and to serve as well. Europe is looking to America, will we fail her.

At the conclusion of the lecture questions were invited and there were several asked which were answered by the speaker. There were those in the audience who took exceptions to many of the statements made by the speaker and who if they had asked questions, would have opened a heated discussion of the subject no doubt, but in truth this is the object of a Forum. To secure as many points of view as possible, but Arlington has not quite reached that point of a free and open discussion of any subject in public, outside of a town meeting.

The Forums have this year been most interesting and on the whole well attended, and while they have not been financially supported in quite the manner desired, still, the expenses have been met by the generous subscription set aside by the Woman's Club for this purpose. While the Forums have been given under the direction of a committee from the Arlington Woman's Club, they have been for the people in general and the committee takes this means of thanking all who have, by their attendance, supported them.

Along the line of Rabbi Wise lecture we reprint the following taken from the Literary Digest of February 3rd, in an article entitled, "How America Feels about the British Debt." This special quotation is from the Providence News as follows:—

"Under the Treaty the United States received no reparations; England took hers until she was gorged. She got nearly all the merchant shipping of Germany. She scrapped the German Navy, thereby eliminating her only great naval rival in European waters—and saving herself in naval expenditure two hundred millions a year, or enough to take care of the interest on the debt. She then killed Germany as a trade rival in manufactured steel and iron, as well as soft coal and lumber, by handing over to France and Poland some of the most fruitful mineral and forest territory of the former German monarchy.

"Finally the British statesmen took from Germany an entire empire in Africa, abounding in mineral wealth. England got all that and further reparations in gold that are to come from Germany. We got nothing except a big national debt, a pension list that will grow as the years roll by, 100,000 graves, and disabled soldiers that are costing us $450,000,000 a year.

"Why we should concede anything on this debt question can not be successfully answered. We borrowed this money from the people of the United States, and we pay interest semi-annually at the average rate of four and one-quarter per cent. In order to meet the interest charges we have to collect from our own taxpayers more than two hundred millions a year. Everybody who pays a Federal tax pays some proportion of this sum, has done so for several years, and will continue to do so until Great Britain meets the annual interest rate."

"The ushers at each Forum have been taken from men representing different organizations in the town. The Forum committee was Mrs. Curtis H. Waterman, chairman; Mrs. Nelson B. Crosby, Mrs. Charles A. Hardy, Mrs. Fred A. Sawyer, Miss Ethel L. Wellington and Mrs. Joseph P. Wyman.

A CAPITAL CRIME

A crowd had gathered and completely encircled the pair standing out in the broad thoroughfare, waiting. One of the pair glanced occasionally over his shoulder down the highway with an ill-concealed impatience. It looked suspiciously like anxiety. To be sure the crowd were mostly gaping schoolboys, some grinning, some only staring in sympathetic wonder. But then it is seldom given to the rising generation to witness the apprehension of a miscreant, who had been caught, red-handed, in the commission of a capital crime, and in fact right in broad daylight. Perhaps he had been stalking one of them to school and had just lost sight of him in the intersecting traffic, when the stern, heavy hand of the law descended upon him.

Shackled to the stalwart policeman he was a forlorn, friendless-looking criminal, yet friendly enough to those versed in the tribal traits and scarcely of the hardened type. The expanding sunshine beamed broadly, warmly down upon the scene, and for the last time on earth for the central figure in the crowd. Even if he did not know this the boys did. Their taunts and jostling subsided and they stood quiet and hushed as the van drew up, which was to convey the victim to the execution chamber, where the executioner sat waiting.

The policeman gave a few half-hearted pulls on the rope, with which he had provided himself for just such an emergency. Perhaps he was a lover of the tribe himself and was wishing he was tugging at his victim's master, who had been so forgetful as to allow him to follow the boys to school without a muzzle. Rover offered no violent resistance but stood stockstill. Plainly he was puzzled just what was best to do and why he had suddenly attracted so much attention. But in a twinkling the driver of the death-wagon, accustomed to such scenes, stepped briskly down from his seat, lifted Rover's sturdy, shaggy form in his arms and the van was soon moving rapidly down the road. The crowd dispersed. Rover was taking his last ride and soon would reach his last destination, the canines' happy hunting ground.

Perhaps when there someone will tell him about the self-confessed murderer, who had been acquitted a few days before because the jury believed the confession to be fictitious and a part of a conspiracy aided and abetted by one, who was himself a sworn officer of the law, to get votes for himself by saving the neck of another human assassin, who, after a fair trial, had been found guilty by another jury. Years have elapsed and the convicted assassin has never been sentenced, but perhaps the sworn officer of the law will shortly move for sentence, thereby saving as much of his face and reputation as may be left to save.

Meanwhile the average private citizen, diligently playing his daily tasks, doing his best to meet just debts and increasing taxes and to give his family the decent necessities of life, is weary of the blood-spilling rioter, the bolshevist, the Ku Klux Klan, the politician, who circumvents and cheats justice, the man or woman bearing what the law text-books term "disgraceful diseases," and the un-hanged murderer. He would cheerfully subscribe to the philosophy of some canine sentimentalist, who said, "The more I see of some people, the more I respect dogs."

But Rover was a menace to society, even if some child did love him, with a love akin to adoration. Our local authorities had said so. No criticism of them because they had acted upon the advice of those taken to be learned in such matters. To be sure a few equally learned are not so sure. But they are a decided

But Rover's misfortune was in being born with four legs instead of two. Had it been otherwise he too might have gotten away with lots of things much worse than failing to remind his owner to help him on with his muzzle. Perhaps he is great-hearted enough to forgive and love those he offended. He will never offend again. Society must not be menaced by unmuzzled dogs.

OVER 15,000,000 PEOPLE LIVING
IN CITIES WHICH HAVE
ZONING SYSTEMS

More than 15,000,000 people live in zoned cities, towns and villages, according to the Division of Buildings and Housing of the Department of Commerce. Computations show that the homes of 27 per cent of the total urban population of the country are located in zoned municipalities, and it follows that most of these homes are protected from intrusion of garages, stores, warehouses or manufacturing plants.

Zoning regulations provide, by a neighborly kind of agreement, that a city or town shall be divided into districts in which the uses for which structures may be built, their maximum height, and the area of the lot which they may cover, are established. In line with the zoning plan, certain districts are set aside for residences, for apartment houses, for office buildings, and for manufacturing. Ample provision is made for normal growth of business and industrial districts, but the builder of a garage or factory is not allowed to erect it within a residential neighborhood regardless of the annoyance and money losses inflicted on surrounding home owners.

The Department's investigation shows that in 1922 zoning spread especially rapidly in smaller places. Fourteen towns with five to ten thousand inhabitants were zoned during the year, bringing the total zoned towns in this class to twenty-three. Twelve places with 5,000 inhabitants or less were added to the list in 1922, bringing the total in that class to seventeen. The percentage of large cities which have already zoned remains much greater, of course, and of the fifty largest cities in the country, twenty-two have zoning ordinances in effect.

In the entire country, 109 cities, towns and villages were zoned on January 1, 1923, as compared with 55 just one year before.

New York, the largest city in the country, has been zoned since 1916, and in contrast, the smallest zoned community had only 131 inhabitants according to the 1920 census. Eighty-one per cent of the urban population of New York State lives in zoned municipalities. California ranks second among the states with 71 per cent of her urban population zoned; Minnesota third, with 58 per cent; New Jersey, fourth, with 57 per cent; and Utah, fifth, with 55 per cent. The entire District of Columbia is zoned.

In number of places zoned, New Jersey leads with 31, New York is second with 17; California, third, with 14; Illinois, fourth, with 10; Ohio, fifth, with 9; and Massachusetts and Wisconsin follow with six each.

The complete list of zoned municipalities as of January 1, 1923, with references to the state acts under which zoning is permitted, may be obtained from the Division of Building and Housing of the Department of Commerce, which also has available for distribution such pamphlets as "A Zoning Primer," explaining in popular style the elements of zoning, and "A Standard State Zoning Enabling Act," a model act for the assistance of states in preparing laws permitting city zoning.

It is being constantly demonstrated that this town should have a zoning system. If there had been one some of the complaints that now are heard about the placing of stores in residential districts of the town would never have been necessary.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Next Monday the world will pay homage to Abraham Lincoln, by an observance of the day in various forms, it being the anniversary of his birth. To one whose memory goes back to the political campaign of 1860 which resulted in placing Lincoln in the office of President of the United States, the estimates of the man, his liabilities, his character, his worth to the world, stands out in striking contrast to what they were familiar with in that three cornered contest for the presidential office. Secretary Stanton exclaimed as life fled from the martyred President, "He now belongs to the ages." As the years roll on the prophesy is realized.

It may be that the manner of his death has had something to do with placing his name so high as it now stands in the hall of fame, but a life scrutinized as his has been, must have been governed by the purest motives, been clean and wholesome, with a purpose the highest conceivable by a big brain and loving heart, else his fame would not be what it now is and that fame universally regarded as just.

To those who believe there is a Providence moving in the affairs of men, it may be Lincoln is ranked as one chosen to accomplish a gigantic task in the world's uplift; that his personal task fulfilled, he was called to another sphere. To us he seems to be a development of the typical American, to forever remain as the standard, emerging from his humble environment through his own heroic and tremendous effort, to be forever thereafter an inspiration and a guide to each and every one who would square a life by his and adopt as a guiding star his high aims.

It is not alone in his immortal Gettysburg address, or his never to be forgotten second inaugural address, that Lincoln's command of the best and purest English is discovered. The campaign book of 1860 that has numerous addresses by Lincoln, has the same clear, concise and effective use of language that make the ones spoken of so conspicuous in literature. Lincoln was effective with speech or with pen because his preparation was thorough. There is not a school boy or girl who cannot be that.

If there be any special section of this country of ours where the people know to its fullest significance the meaning of the words "cold" and "influenza," it is our New England. It is with something of a thrill that we read the announcement that Dr. S. W. Flexner, a director in the Rockefeller Institute, has discovered the cause of influenza and been successful in the isolation of the germ. Hasten the day when every physician becomes familiar with methods of capturing the germ.

TOWN ELECTION APPROACHING

Election for town officers will soon be here. Already nomination papers have been taken out by some who will seek to become candidates. Considerable interest has already been manifested and no doubt more will be evinced as the time draws near for the final vote, which comes the first Monday, in March, the fifth of that month.

Every candidate who secures signatures sufficient to place his or her name on the ballot, will have his or her following. No doubt each will have some qualification for the office they seek. The thing for citizens to do is to ascertain which ones will, in every respect, make the best officers to fill the position. Which ones can, because of experience, practical knowledge, fair-mindedness and sincerity of purpose, be the best servant for the town.

The principal thing, however, is for each citizen qualified to vote to see that his or her name is on the voting list correctly. This is a duty that should be felt a privilege to every American citizen. No matter how you may feel about the different candidates. That is not the most important thing. The most important is first to see that your name is on the voting list and then remember to vote on election day. It is the stay-at-homes, which elect the undesirable candidate, every time. Remember this when after election day you are not satisfied with the result.

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING LARGEST IN HISTORY OF ORGANIZATION

President R. Walter Hilliard of the Arlington Board of Trade greeted the largest meeting in the history of the board on Tuesday evening, in the banquet hall of the G. A. R. building. It was one of those meetings that was interesting from start until the close. The regular monthly dinner was served by the Hardy Catering Company and consisted of fillet of beef and all the fixings, topped off with ice cream, and a good cigar. Then came the social session, during which many of the members gathered about the piano and sang the old time songs. It was wonderful to find so much music among the men and it came out good and strong.

During the business session twenty-four new members were voted in and eleven new applications for membership were received. The report of the treasurer, Frank Y. Wellington was very gratifying, showing that with all bills paid, there was a balance on hand of $1443.96. Resolutions were adopted on the deaths of Walter A. Adams and Frank W. Hodgdon and silent tribute was paid their memory by the members.

Herbert L. Willett, Jr., who is one of the men in charge of this district work for the near east, was given the privilege of the floor and in a very brief speech told of the great needs of funds and clothing for the Near East work. He told of the coming campaign here for funds in the spring and at the close of Mr. Willett's remarks, Rev. Charles Tabor Hall added a few brief remarks, relative to the coming campaign and of the great necessity of interesting everyone in the work.

The speaker of the evening was Professor Ernst Hermann, director of physical education in the schools of Somerville, and superintendent of the playgrounds of Newton. The subject was "The need of physical education." Professor Hermann stated that we do not get the right kind of exercise or enough of it to help us ward off the ailments of later life. He said there is no need for man to die young and his life could be greatly prolonged if he took the right kind of exercises. The late war showed the great need of physical training, a large percentage of the boys being turned down at the time of the physical examinations for the army. The army, according to the speaker, was the best physical training that a boy could get, regular hours, regular diet and plenty of muscular exercises every day. Some men contend that they never had any physical training and they see no benefit of it now. The answer to this is, in the old days the boys and girls, had chores to do. In the old days the yards were larger and almost everyone had a small garden that meant outdoor work. Nowadays the house lots are so small, that the child does not get a chance to get out on the dirt or grass and learn to walk in the natural way. Instead the baby learns to walk in shoes that are not suited for its feet, on polished floors which are not conducive for the good development of the muscles. Then again the children are pampered with mechanical toys and the only outing they get is in a perambulator. Professor Hermann told of a large class of well to do men, past middle life, who come to him each week for setting-up exercises and physical training. Professor Hermann said that the boy of today does not have the same chances for physical training that was his parents. It is the natural bent of a youngster to be a savage. The instinct is there. Boys and girls are more or less animals and this animal spirit must be given a vent. Where are they going to give vent to this animal life if not on the playgrounds? We must have more playgrounds and all under careful supervision of a competent instructor. Years ago the boys played their games on the streets, the natural playground of the world. Then the only vehicles were wagons and horse drawn vehicles. Now there is the fast moving automobile in every corner of the land and there lies the danger of playing on the streets. So that the old methods of obtaining physical training are now gone and we must look to the future. The speaker told of the compulsory training in the schools of his native land, Germany, where for certain periods every day of the school life the student must take certain kinds of exercises.

The homes of today do not warrant the bringing up of children in the right way. The child is kept tied down for fear it will rumple some nice drapery or topple over a floor lamp, or scratch the furniture a little bit. In many families there is but one child, which in the opinion of the speaker is the greatest mistake. The child should be allowed to go bare footed on the ground, or with some soft shoe like a moccasin, while learning to walk. It is the natural tendency of the child when learning to walk, to dig in with the toes. This digging in of the toes tends to develop the muscles of the feet, legs and back of the child and give it a good start physically. If this is not done, the muscles have a tendency to become flabby, which makes the child more susceptible to diseases. The arches of the people of today are weak and there are few who could walk any distance with a load weighing only forty pounds on their backs. Many untimely deaths of today are due to the fact that we live and work in rooms that are too hot, and we are breathing in dry air that is not good for us.

When the child reaches the High school age it has come to the critical time in many respects. There are few boys or girls who can stand erect. We are developing a round shouldered flat chested race of men and women. We wear too much clothing and our bodies do not have a chance to breathe. The skin is an important factor of our system and must be given great care and the only proper skin treatment is plenty of the right kind of exercises each day.

The speaker stated that if he had his way he would do away with the Primary grades of the schools, feeling that more benefit to their health could be secured in the open air than in a school room.

In closing he urged the men to do more walking and less riding and see if they would not feel much better in a short time.

Following the remarks of Professor Hermann, a number of the members asked questions which he readily answered.

ARLINGTON HIGH WINS FROM NEWTON IN A WELL PLAYED HOCKEY GAME

Arlington High school ice hockey team came into its own on Tuesday afternoon, coming back at Newton High and evening up with them for the game in the Greater Boston Interscholastic League series. Newton is looked upon as one of the best teams in the league but the Arlington boys, by clever playing, gave them a whitewash by a score of three to nothing.

The game was a battle from the moment the whistle was blown for the opening of the game. Newton had figured on getting to Arlington early in the game and then playing on the defensive entirely, but in this they were disappointed, for the Arlington boys were well onto the trick and went after Newton hard, so hard that after the first five minutes of play, Donnelly caged the first goal for Arlington. Three minutes later Donnelly made another successful shot for the Newton goal, giving Arlington a nice lead of two points.

The Newton boys fought the game of their lives from then on and Arlington did not score again until the second period, when Crosby made what proved to be the final tally for from then on Newton played a defensive game. Twice during the game the Newton players broke through the Arlington defense and had a chance to make a tally, but their shots were cleverly warded off by Captain Hammond, who played a sterling game and kept his men on their mettle. The Arlington players gave the Newton defense and goal tend plenty of work. Howland directed several shots that looked like possible goals for Arlington. The summary—

Ashley of 146 Oakland avenue, Arlington Heights is a local alumna of Goucher College, Baltimore, who is active in bringing Hugh Walpole, the well-known English novelist and literary critic, to Jordan Hall, Boston, on two Saturdays, February 17th, and February 24th, at 3 p. m. Mrs. Ashley has tickets to dispose of ranging from $2 to $5.

Mrs. Kenneson was tendered a birthday party at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Pomeroy on Wednesday, February 7th. About twenty-five guests were present and an enjoyable evening was spent in playing games. The house was attractive in red and white with valentine novelties decorating the table and serving as favors. Many beautiful and useful gifts were received by Mrs. Kenneson.

Wednesday afternoon, February 14th, a valentine tea will be held by the Harmony Circle of the Methodist Church, at the home of Mrs. Pomeroy. In the evening the Star Circle will hold a valentine social at the home of Mrs. Norman Hitchcock, 15 Bow street. Each lady will bring a valentine and the men purchasing the same will eat lunch with the original owner. The social hour after the entertainment will be in charge of the hospitality committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Birch left the Heights, January 27th, for a visit to the South. They are proceeding by easy stages, stopping at the various cities on the way. They spent a day in Baltimore, a couple of days in Richmond, where they visited the interesting places, and are now in Greensboro, N. C. Mr. Birch writes us that the weather is quite mild and over-coats are not needed. Greensboro had one and one-half inches of snow and the people thought it was terrible. The electric cars and all traffic stopped until it was cleared from the streets.

Thursday, February 8th, members of the Women's Society of the Baptist Church and their husbands tendered a surprise party to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Paulson, at their home at 8 Harvard street. A beautiful Nutting's picture was presented to the couple, who are leaving Arlington the first of next week, for Providence, Rhode Island, where they will make their new home. After five years' residence in Arlington, and through their active work in the Baptist Church, a host of friends were made by the couple. Their departure is regretted by many, especially the church, where Mr. and Mrs. Paulson were members, and in which Mr. Paulson was a member of the quartet. The party was a complete surprise and although the thought of separation was uppermost in every one's mind, a merry evening was enjoyed. The ladies brought refreshments. An informal time was enjoyed. Good wishes of success follow the couple in their new home.

ARLINGTON GIRL SCOUT NOTES

Many of the people who so thoroughly enjoyed the "Dansant" on New Year's p. m. given in the Town Hall, under the auspices of the Girl Scouts Council, as well as those who did not attend, are eagerly looking forward to the second "Dansant" to be held on the afternoon of Washington's Birthday, under the same auspices.

Mrs. James H. Bailey, Deputy Commissioner of Arlington has been chosen chairman of the Singing Contest, to be held in the Arena on the 12th of May, when the Girl Scouts hold their yearly rally. This contest is open to Scouts from all over the state and is an elimination contest only two groups to be in the finals on the 12th of May. Last year Arlington and Bedford who competed together came in second and are working together again this year under the instruction of Captain Waterman. Mrs. Bailey and Mrs. Waterman are very fortunate in securing the interest and co-operation of Miss Pierce of the Arlington schools who has most kindly consented to be a member of this committee.

Mrs. C. F. Waterman, commissioner for Arlington has been elected to succeed Mrs. Stevens as chairman of the Household Arts for this same rally when Mrs. Stevens leaves for Europe.

Miss Dean, field commissioner of the Metropolitan District is to hold an eight weeks' course for patrol leaders at the Court Armory, each troop in the district sending its best patrol leader which will make 175 taking the course.

Last week in preparation for the Audubon lecture which was on "Albatross and Birds of the Antarctic Region," Mrs. E. D. Hooker read the "Ancient Mariner," to the Scouts who greatly enjoyed the reading and appreciated Mrs. Hooker's kindness. The Audubon lectures have been well attended by the Girl Scouts, who will regret that the last one in the course comes this week Saturday.

"The Trail Maker," the official magazine of the Girl Scouts, issued from headquarters in Boston has been placed in the Children's Department of the Public Library.

JOHN J. DUFF DECEASED

The many friends of John J. Duff, for quite a number of years a resident of Arlington, were shocked at the news of his death while at his winter home in West Palm Beach, Florida, which came on last Friday night, and was unexpected.

Mr. Duff conducted the business of manufacturing springs for many years, succeeding his father in the business and his place in Cambridge was well patronized for his reputation of fair and square was known far and near.

Mr. Duff lived at 12 Henderson street. He was born in Newark, N. J., July 13, 1860, son of James and Catherine Duff. He received his early education in Bridgeport, Connecticut, later attending Somerville High school. After leaving school he entered the employ of his father, a pioneer wagon spring manufacturer, who had started the business in 1875. Upon the death of his father, the son took over the business and for 30 years carried it on at 30 Harvard street, Cambridge, under the name of the Duff Spring Company. When the automobiles came into vogue, the firm turned its attention to the manufacture of automobile springs and repair work on springs.

Mr. Duff was a member of Medford Lodge of Elks for many years. Surviving him are his wife, who was Catherine T. Fleming of Somerville; two sons, Frank J. Duff of Cambridge and Joseph L. Duff of Arlington and a daughter, Miss Susan L. Duff of Arlington.

The services will be held tomorrow (Saturday) morning, a solemn high mass of requiem will be celebrated in St. Agnes' Church, at 9 o'clock. The remains arrived in Arlington, Friday (today). This evening (Friday), the Elks' services will be held, conducted by officers of Medford Lodge.

DOLLOFF'S NEW MILK STATION TO BE OPEN FOR INSPECTION THE LAST OF THIS WEEK

Mr. Levi M. Dolloff, the milk dealer, invites any and all who may care to inspect his new milk station located at 1071 Mass. avenue, to do so. This is a new brick building, costing in the neighborhood of $12,000, that has been equipped with all the modern appliances for the pasteurizing of milk and the up-to-date handling of it.

Something like 1000 quarts can be handled each day in this newly equipped building, where no pains has been spared to make it an ideal place for the conducting of Mr. Dolloff's growing business. Go and see for yourself how milk is handled scientifically.

The last two meetings of the Guild in February and March, three classes, sewing and reading have been arranged.

*The Girls' Friendly of the Church of Our Savior met at the church, on Monday evening, February 5th. Mrs. Elmer Lewis was in charge of the meeting assisted by Mrs. Harry Rowntree, Mrs. John Lawrence, and Mrs. Cecil Hunt. Plans for a Valentine Party on Monday, February 12th, were arranged. Mrs. Lewis as general chairman, Mrs. Cecil Hunt, entertainment, and Mrs. John Lawrence, refreshments, are in charge of the evening's program.

*Next Sunday, February 12th, the Boy Scouts of the Trinity Baptist Church will take active part in the morning services. They will give the Scout Oath and Christian salute. Rainbow Girls and Camp Fire Girls of the church will celebrate their second anniversary on this date. Camp Fire Girls will present the church with a bouquet of crimson carnations tied with a khaki bow, while the Rainbow Girls will give a bouquet of various flowers tied with ribbons of rainbow hues. The girls will also furnish the music.

*The funeral services of Mrs. Elizabeth M. Hutchinson of 35 Cleveland street, were held at the Church of Our Savior, last Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock. The ladies of the Guild of which Mrs. Hutchinson was a faithful member, met at the church, and went to the house in a body, to act as an escort to the church, where seats were reserved. The church was filled to its utmost capacity, many being seated in the vestry room. The vested choir sang, assisted by Mrs. W. A. Corcoran, and three former friends of the family. Mrs. Corcoran sang, "Some day we'll Understand," in a very touching manner. The remains were taken by the son to Nova Scotia.

*Wednesday evening, January 31st, the Guild of the Church of Our Savior, gave a surprise party to one of their members, Mrs. Helen M. Hunt, who has been organist and choir director for seven years. The table, where a delicious spread was served by the supper committee, was decorated with dainty and bright valentine place cards and favors at each plate, also great bunches of flowers for center pieces. Mrs. Hunt as honor guest was seated at the right of the president, with guests from out of town at her left. Before partaking of ice cream, Mrs. Lewis arose and asking Mrs. Hunt to stand with her presented her with a beautiful wrist watch, as a gift of love and appreciation from the Guild. Remarks were made by Mrs. Bourcay, the first president of the Guild; Mrs. Hurst, from Braintree, Mrs. Lysette from the Heights, Mrs. Morine, Mrs. Stanley, Mrs. Childs, Mrs. Leitcher, Mrs. Goode, and the vice-president, Mrs. Rountree. A social hour followed.

*Miss Florence Armstrong and Miss Louise W. Platt of Marathon street, have just returned from Florida. They attended the National association of Real Estate Boards' convention in Jacksonville and there, with a party of sixty New Englanders, toured the whole state. The party was chaperoned by Mesdames Robert Fowler, A. Dudley Dowd of Newton Centre, and James Higgins of Providence, Rhode Island. Boston weather was quite a change from Miami Beach, where one sees only sun-burned bathers, at this time of the year.

The tendency of the times is toward more comfort and convenience in the home. This means countless heating appliances—labor saving and comfort providing—must be installed to meet this ever increasing demand, and the possibility of heating the entire home with gas is not far distant. Someone has said that the gas plant of today is destined to be the central heating station of tomorrow. Who shall say this will not be so? One hundred years ago there was but one use for gas—lighting; today there are more than 1,200 separate and distinct uses for the "little blue flame of convenience." And more are being discovered right along.

We are in a business worthy of our most intelligent efforts, and we are glad to tell the public that our work to make this world a better place to live in has only begun.

—The Arlington Men's Club is planning a "Ladies' Night," for either the latter part of February, or the first of March.

—Miss Randall of the Randall Hat shop, will be in New York, next week, attending the millinery openings. She will return with many ideas for her spring opening in March.

—Rev. R. J. Davis left on Monday, January 29th, for Hamilton, New York, where he will spend a few weeks with his son, Arthur, who is a student at Colgate College. Rev. Davis was granted leave by the church on account of his health.

—A Schick Test clinic was started Thursday afternoon, February 1st, at the Russell school by the Board of Health. The clinic was well attended and many pupils underwent the first process of the test. The final test, at the Crosby school was given on Monday, February 5.

—Mr. Carl H. Bunker of 81 Hillside avenue, has announced his candidacy for the Board of Public Works. Mr. Bunker is a man of technical education and served a three year term on the Committee of Twenty-one.

—With changes that are now taking place, perhaps it is a favorable time to give Worcester Brothers, Cambridge, a trial. A telephone call, University 0221, will bring their truck for upholstery or cabinet work, cane seating and window shades. All work done in our own workrooms and returned promptly.

—Here is one sure sign of an early spring. The local baseball players are beginning to talk up a willful baseball team to represent this town, during the coming season. There is plenty of material here for a team and with some backing, the game could be made a great attraction in the town, a couple evenings a week.

—Mr. Calvin Bullock of Denver, Colorado, has written to an Arlington friend to see if it is possible to obtain a "Roster" of the Arlington High school class, of 1883, and Advocate has been appealed to. Mr. Bullock is a prominent banker in Denver, but is interested, especially in the class of the above year. If any one has such a roster he would be glad to hear from them.

—Everything is ready for the big show that Menotomy Chapter is going to stage in Robbins Memorial

Town Hall, Friday and Saturday evening, February 9th and 10th, under the direction of Harry Orr. Arthur M. Many of Miss Whittier's friends from Dorchester, Boston and Arlington, were present. Games were played by the guests until late in the evening, when the party adjourned to the prettily decorated dining room, where dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Peter Schwamb.

—Rev. S. C. Bushnell, who has been supplying the pulpit at the United Church in New Haven, Conn., which has a membership of some eight hundred and fifty, will soon be relieved from that position as the church has called Rev. Richard H. Clapp to become the minister. Mr. Bushnell has occupied the pulpit at the United Church for the past thirteen months and it is with regret that the people disperse with his services, for it has been their wish that Mr. Bushnell become their permanent minister. He, however, did not care to take up the strenuous life again, which such a church would require.

—Post cards received this week from the William M. Hatches, who are traveling around the world, were mailed from Kobe, Japan. The card notes that the Hatches took New Year's dinner at the Grand Hotel, Yokohama, where they had as their guests, a Mr. and Mrs. Whittemore, local American residents. Mr. Whittemore is the manager of the International Banking Corporation of Yokohama. The Hatches have been in Tokyo, and Kamakura, besides Kobe, which is on the coast. They will shortly sail for China.

—Students from Arlington and vicinity are winning signal honors in scholarship, athletics, and social activities in the various departments of Boston University. Miss Lovewell has specialized in French at college and will appear to advantage in the part of "Marie" in the production, "Voyage de M. Perrichon," which will be given in Jacob Sleeper Hall. She is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority. Gilbert N. Reed of Arlington Heights has been elected treasurer of "Wool-sack," the honorary society at the law school. Membership in this club is based upon high scholarship and all-around ability.

—The Toledo Blade, of January 19th, carried a large photograph of Mrs. Paul W. Alexander, who in Arlington will be better remembered as Miss Loraine Eaton, for several years the English teacher in Arlington High school. Mrs. Alexander was to be the speaker at the meeting of the American Association, of University Women, in the Belvedere on last Saturday, when she was to discuss Charles S. Brooks, a present day essayist, who has published four volumes, "Journey to Baghdad," "There's Pippin and Cheese to Come," "Chimney Pot Papers," and "Hints to Pilgrims." The note accompanying the picture of Mrs. Alexander which, by the way, was a fine likeness, noted that Mrs. Alexander's method of the presentation of her subject would be a trifle out of the ordinary, as she would interpret the essayist's personality, entirely from his writings. The paragraph also stated that Mrs. Alexander is a Wellesley alumna, and takes an active part in the interests of college women. Mrs. Alexander is the mother of two children.

—Many attended the food sale and entertainment at the Calvary Methodist Church, on Saturday afternoon, January 27th. A food table was in charge of Miss Elizabeth Wallace. A good part of the room was cleared and games were played by all present. Miss Mary Fader gave some entertaining readings and Miss Ruth Simmons rendered selections on the piano. The profits of the afternoon will enable the primary department to purchase two tables and other equipment for use in that part of the church school. Mrs. Carl S. Nelson was in charge, assisted by Miss Elizabeth Wallace at the food table and Miss Louise Fader. Miss Edith Thomas and Miss Lillian Hoyt with the games.

TENTH ANNIVERSARY OF MENOTOMY TRUST COMPANY

Monday evening, officers and directors of Menotomy Trust Company marked the tenth anniversary of its absorption of the assets of the Arlington National Bank, over which the late E. Nelson Baker presided with such signal success for a long term, by tendering a dinner to Hon. James A. Bailey, who succeeded Mr. Blake in the office of president. It was held at the Winchester Country Club, and the first intimation Mr. Bailey had of the affair was when he was called for at his home on Wellington street, and whisked away to join his associates already gathered at the club house. This surprise feature took from the gathering all semblance of formality and rarely has a more congenial company gathered around any festive board.

Vice-President Warren A. Pierce was the presiding officer, and when the fine dinner had been served, introduced the several speakers, in an informal way spoke of general and intimate affairs, nearly each one present making a contribution. As special guests besides President Bailey, there were present Mr. Charles G. Bancroft, president of the International Trust Company, and Hon. Charles C. Warren, senator from the district of which Arlington is a part.

Our reporter speaks of the above event as one of the most social, genial and enjoyable evenings imaginable, which it is easy to believe. It crowns ten years of almost phenomenal success in banking circles, and in its new home, under management to the last degree competent, with even brightening outlook for the future, the officers and directors did well to honor in this way the one who is the legal head and felt to be a strong guiding hand in the institution of which they are a part. To the congratulations received we add ours.

FRIENDS OF THE DRAMA OPEN TO ARLINGTON RESIDENTS WHO MAY CARE TO JOIN

Although a dramatic club has been started in Arlington through the efforts of the Dramatic committee of the Arlington Woman's Club, Mrs. Cyrus E. Dallin, chairman, it is hoped to make it a town organization for those interested in drama, in any of its many branches.

Some weeks ago, invitations were sent out by Mrs. Dallin to members of the Arlington Woman's Club, whom she and her committee felt might be interested in forming a drama club. To this invitation quite a number of club members responded and at that time it was evident there was a desire for such an organization. Mrs. Gracia Moody who is a graduate of the Emerson College, a past chairman of the dramatic committee of the Arlington Woman's Club, and a member of the Professional Woman's Club of Boston, has been for some time interested in having a dramatic club in Arlington, and she was appointed at this first meeting to draw up a set of rules and regulations.

At this meeting questionnaires were distributed with a request that each one present fill out the same. In this way information was ascertained as to just what part of dramatic work each was interested in and would be willing to give of her time. Some expressed themselves as desiring to study the drama and plays. Others were interested in the presentation of plays and expressed themselves as willing to take part in them. Others were willing to work on the fashioning of the costumes; another group in stage setting and scenery; others in "making-up" and still others who were willing to attempt the writing of a play.

In this latter group were ladies who in the past have written plays, in fact some of them several plays. Of this number there are Mrs. George B. C. Rugg, the president of the Arlington Woman's Club, who has several plays to her credit, some of which have been copyrighted and are being given. Arlington has seen two of her plays. Still another is Dr. Barbara Ring, who has done considerable play writing and has also several of her plays copyrighted. Several have been given in Arlington. Still another is Mrs. Paul M. White, who is among Arlington's playwrights, and one has been given before the Arlington Woman's Club, besides at Arlington Heights and elsewhere. Mrs. Verne Q. Powell wrote a most enjoyable play that was presented two winters ago at Arlington Heights, and Mrs. Samuel Cushing has created several short plays. Then again Mrs. Dallin's wonderful gift as a writer of pageants, while not perhaps in just the line of dramatic work, still is of a character that makes her talent of a great asset to the town. Her pageants have been given all over the country and none will forget the beautiful one enacted in Arlington, at the time of its 100th anniversary, which was from the pen of Mrs. Dallin. So one can see what possibilities there are in Arlington to have a dramatic organization second to none other in the state. In fact the ambition of the women vitally interested in this new organization, is nothing less than a second 47 Workshop, of Harvard.

No permanent officers have as yet been elected. This will be done at the next meeting. Mrs. Curtis Waterman is the temporary secretary; Mrs. F. A. Tibbitts, treasurer; with Mrs. Dallin, as chairman. The first fifty who join the organization will constitute the charter members. The dues for active member is $2, and associate member $4. The latter constitutes those who may be interested but unable to attend the meetings or take any active part. They will be entitled to two tickets for each performance that may be given by the active members.

At the second meeting held January 25th, in the Hearing room of Robbins Memorial Town Hall, the following ladies became members, by paying their dues: Miss Alice W. Homer, Mrs. D. T. Percy, Mrs. C. A. Dennett, Mrs. E. B. Harrington, Mrs. Ralph Hunt, Mrs. F. A. Tibbitts, Miss Ellen Percy, Miss Abbie Heselstine, Mrs. Paul M. White, Mrs. Arthur T. Lawson, Mrs. George B. C. Rugg, Mrs. Florence Story, Mrs. R. W. Lownd, Mrs. George H. Tewksbury, Mrs. G. B. Ottley, Miss Josephine W. Whitaker, Mrs. C. E. Dallin, Mrs. William Forbes, Mrs. H. H. Shinn, Mrs. Walter Vaughn, Dr. Barbara Ring, Mrs. Arthur G. Hastings, Mrs. Alton E. Evans, Mrs. H. L. Stratton, Mrs. Frank White, Mrs. George Clark, Mrs. Curtis Waterman, Mrs. Gracia Moody, Mrs. H. H. Stinson.

If there are any in Arlington, although not members of the Arlington Woman's Club, who would care to join the "Friends of the Drama," they are invited to call up its temporary chairman, or the secretary or treasurer, or Mrs. Moody, any of whom will be glad to give information in regard to the same. The next meeting will be held Wednesday, February 21st, in the Hearing room of Robbins Memorial Town Hall. At that time Miss Josephine W. Whitaker will have a part of the program also Mrs. Paul White. The sketch that was to have been given by Mrs. George Yale and Mrs. Charles Hoxie at the last meeting, will also be presented at this time.

The bowling teams of Arlington Lodge of Elks, visited Somerville Lodge on Monday evening, to take part in the first of a series of matches between the teams of the two lodges. So far as the fraternal spirit of the occasion went it was a success, but the less that is said about the bowling (that of the Arlington rollers) the better. They were outclassed from the very start and both first and second teams suffered defeat by a large margin. The Arlington rollers were not acquainted with the Somerville Alleys and promise a much better showing when Somerville comes up here some evening soon. A large delegation went down with the bowlers to root, but found little to do after the first string and contented themselves in looking over the beautiful home of Somerville Lodge.

The bowling teams of the Middlesex Sportsman's Association are now in second place in their respective leagues. In the Amateur Boston Pin League, which is now about half through the season, the M. S. A. team broke the tie in second place and is now but one point behind the leaders of the league, Dorchester Club. In the Newton league which just opened, the M. S. A. team is in second place, one point behind the leader, and but one point ahead of third place.

"CREO-DIPT"
STAINED SHINGLES

Quality of shingles. Each shingle is sawed from selected cedar logs—not from forest waste; all parallel widths—no wedge shapes; thoroughly seasoned—not baked to death in dry kilns. Better shingles are not to be found in any market.

Quality of stain. Each shingle is thoroughly stained by a special factory process. Pure pigments are ground twice in pure linseed oil and carried deep in the fibre of the wood with creosote oil. The result is preservation of wood as well as soft-toned colors that do not fade or wash out in streaks.

They cost less than staining on the job.

Moore, vice-president; James J. Flynn, secretary; Harold Pick, treasurer; William P. Mahoney, Charles E. Carroll and Harold Pick, executive board. At the annual meeting of the Police Relief Association, the following officers were chosen:—William P. Mahoney, president; George E. Moore, vice-president; Lieut. Daniel M. Hooley, secretary; Harold Pick, treasurer; Chief Thomas O. D. Urquhart, F. Joseph Cahalin and Daniel P. Barry, auditors; Thomas M. Donovan, John Kerr, Maurice J. Scannell, Frank Meagher and William P. Mahoney, directors.

FIFTY-TWO YEARS WITH ONE FIRM

The following article was prepared for last week's paper, but had to be omitted, together with two columns of local news, on account of the crowded condition of our columns with advertisements that came in at the last minute. As the subject of the article is a well known citizen of Arlington, we are sure that there are those in the town who will be interested in reading what The Cambridge Chronicle had to say of this man, Charles F. Coolidge.

Spending 52 years in the service of one firm is an experience in itself, but when it includes the opportunity of meeting many distinguished personages it becomes doubly interesting. That has been the good fortune of Charles F. Coolidge, who entered the employ of the Riverside Press, Sept. 19, 1871, and has been on the job ever since. To him Oliver Wendell Holmes, John Fiske, Thomas Bailey Aldrich, Sarah Orne Jewett, F. Hopkinson Smith and many others are more than mere names for he has met these writers personally and in some cases has copied of their works in which they have placed their autographs for his special benefit.

Shortly after Mr. Coolidge left school Mr. Houghton sent for him and offered him a job in the office. His duties were: to get there at 6.15 a. m. and clean up the office before the office force got there at 7 o'clock; then do odd jobs during the day and finally be on hand so long as Mr. Houghton wanted him, which might mean that he would leave the office just in time to reach the post office before closing time at 8 o'clock. For this he was offered a salary of $2 per week and, at first, he was not inclined to accept. But his father advised him to take the job and he started work shortly before his 16th birthday. He evidently gave satisfaction for he got a raise of $1 in four weeks. Two years later he was put at work on the books in the office and 3 years after that he was made assistant to Mr. Mifflin, a place he held until he was made superintendent of the bindery.

Mr. Coolidge was born in the white house at the corner of Green and Hancock streets, but later his family moved to Auburn street and he has seen the gradual development of this section from country to its present thickly settled condition.

But the most interesting part of Mr. Coolidge's experiences has been his association with some of the well known authors whose books have been published by the Riverside Press. Among those whom he has known are Oliver Wendell Holmes, whom he recalls as a small man who was very genial to meet, and who autographed one of his books for Mr. Coolidge; John Fiske, the historian; Mary Johnston, the author of "To Have and To Hold"; Mrs. James T. Fields; and Thomas Bailey Aldrich, whose "Story of a Bad Boy" was a favorite of most boys some years ago. Others whom he has known are Henry W. Longfellow and James Russell Lowell who, as Cambridge residents, were familiar figures here 50 years ago.

Among his treasures are an autographed copy of "Deep Haven," by Sarah Orne Jewett, who wrote the last sentence of the book on the fly leaf in addition to her name; an autographed copy of a book by Aldrich; a book with autograph, by F. Hopkinson Smith, who was a familiar figure at the office for a number of years and whom Mr. Coolidge recalls as one of the most versatile men he ever knew. (Mr. Smith was noted as an author and an artist under the name of F. Hopkinson Smith and as Francis H. Smith was one of the leading engineers of the country). Mr. Coolidge also has an illustration of the old canal in Venice which Mr. Smith specially autographed for him. Another book which is exceedingly rare which Mr. Coolidge owns, is the "Key to Uncle Tom's Cabin." It seems that the truth of some of the statements in the original book were questioned and the "Key" was written giving the facts from which the story was drawn. Mr. Coolidge finally secured his copy of the "Key" after a five years' search and through a friend, Mr. F. J. Garrison, son of William Lloyd Garrison, had the "Key" sent to Mrs. Stowe, who autographed it for Mr. Coolidge.

Mr. Coolidge has also seen the growth of Webster's Dictionary. For many years Mr. Coolidge made up the monthly statement for work done on the dictionary and, in all that time, missed only one month on account of illness.

made her home with her son, Mr. Nichols L., until five years ago, when she went to Lexington, to be with her daughter. Her late husband was Donald McKay of East Boston, who was the builder of the Glory of the Sea, and many other well known clipper ships of that time. Assignments to other stations will be made at this time.

—Wednesday evening on the Arlington Alleys, there was a mixed tournament of considerable interest among the Elks of the town. It was a ladies' night on the alleys and so successful was the affair that another such party will be held in the near future. It was like a big family party, all entering into the affair to make it as enjoyable as possible. In many instances the ladies had higher scores than the men and out of sympathy for the men the scores were not announced. Four alleys were used all through the evening and after the rollers completed their tournament they adjourned to the Whittemore pharmacy for ice cream.

—A special committee of the Woman's Guild, connected with St. John's Episcopal Church, conducted a bridge party, Friday afternoon, of last week, in the parish house. There were twenty-one tables used for the playing and several others were sold although not occupied at that time. It proved quite a delightful afternoon socially and at its conclusion, sandwiches, individual cakes and tea, were served. There was a souvenir also for the highest scorer at each table. Something like $80 was realized. The committee was Mrs. Solon G. Gray, Mrs. F. H. Nichols, Mrs. C. H. Hoxie, Miss Marion Hatch, Mrs. James Kirnan, Mrs. Frank Y. Wellington and Mrs. George Yale.

—The Bradshaw Missionary Association met Monday afternoon in the parlor of the Orthodox Congregational Church. The new president, Mrs. E. E. Bacon, presided and dispatched several important items of business. Plans are being formed whereby the work of the association will be broadened and the duties of the president and her assistants will be less arduous. Some appropriations to local work were made at this time. Mr. James M. Hess spoke during the afternoon on the missionary work in India. He came in place of Mrs. Hess, his wife, who was detained by illness. During the social hour tea was served by Mrs. Rodney T. Hardy. Mrs. William Butler and Mrs. Charles H. Swan.

—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Whitney were the recent host and hostess for a party of fifty members of the Appalachian Club, at their home on Bartlett avenue. The party came to Belmont and were met there by Mr. Whitney, who conveyed the party over the hills through Menotomy Rocks Park and then to the Whitney home, where the party repaired to the cellar, which had been invitingly arranged for the Appalachians, who were treated to steaming hot coffee, doughnuts and cheese, set out invitingly on a long table. The party voted the afternoon wonderfully successful, and the place where refreshments was provided, "The best (S) cellar."

—The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church met at the home of Mrs. John Collins, Tuesday, February 6. The yearly reports were read. Three new members, Mrs. Upton, Mr. Alexander and Mrs. Wilson, were welcomed into the society. Mrs. Davis of the Italian Missions was scheduled to address the ladies, was unable to attend on account of having a heavy cold. Plans for the supper to be held February 22nd, at which Mr. and Mrs. Hivald will address and entertain the guests were discussed. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Carter, Mrs. Drew and Mrs. Estabrook.

—The firemen were called out shortly after four o'clock, Tuesday morning, for a fire in the home of Mrs. John Mahoney in the Wyman block, on Lake street. Owing to some mixup there were two alarms sounded for the fire and this caused quite a little excitement. A telephone call had been sent to the Central fire station and, Box 15 was sounded from the station. Almost at the same time someone pulled the hook in Box 17 on Lake street, for the same fire. This caused a confusion in the counting of the number of the box. The fire started from some unknown cause, in the parlor of the house and did considerable damage to the interior of the room. The firemen kept the fire in the room where it started. The damage is estimated at about $500.

—Dr. Charles Arthur Thomas, one of our prominent dentists, had a birthday last Saturday and intended to let the day go by without any particular notice being taken of it. This was all right so far as he figures, but he forgot that he had some friends who keep these anniversaries in mind. So at noon on Saturday when Dr. George W. Yale, Napoleon J. Hardy, John Sawyer and Paul Fraser, met Dr. Thomas as usual for the noon day repast at Hamilton's lunch, there was something in the wind. After desert had been disposed of, Dr. Yale in a pleasantly worded speech presented Dr. Thomas with a birthday cake. Dr. Thomas was indeed surprised, but after recovering, responded to the gift and set up the cigars and ice cream for the party. The lunch was crowded with the regular noon day diners and all gave Dr. Thomas a hearty hand clasp as he was presented with the cake.

TWO FAST BASKETBALL GAMES IN LEXINGTON TOWN HALL

The large number of followers who witnessed the double-header basketball bill in the Lexington Town Hall, Tuesday evening, certainly got their money's worth, for two snappy games were staged. The five of the Stanley Hill Post, No. 38, American Legion, turned back the strong Shawmut Council, Knights of Columbus, quintet, of Boston, 36 to 28, in an overtime contest. This contest was the stellar attraction of the evening, and it was a battle royal from start to finish. Just before the final whistle of the regulation periods, Wholley, playing centre, on a beautiful long shot scored the basket that tied the score, 28 to 28. It was then agreed to play a five-minute overtime period, and during this Lexington made no less than four more baskets, at the same time holding the visiting team from further scoring. O'Donald, playing right forward, made the most points for Lexington, with 13 to his credit, and Dempsey, right guard, scored twelve points. Kelley, left guard, made five points; Haley, who also played left guard, made two, and Wholley, left forward, made four. McNamara, played left forward.

The other game was between the newly formed Lexington town team and the Belmont midgets, the latter winning, 28 to 21. Moloy played left forward for Lexington, and scored eleven points; A. Collins, right forward, four points; Gaffney, centre, five points; Fitzgerald, right guard; J. Collins, left guard, and Ferguson, left guard, one point. "Jiggs" Donahue was referee for both games.

L. H. S. BOYS' BASKETBALL WINS FROM BELMONT HIGH

The Lexington High school boys' basketball five defeated the Belmont High school quintet, for the second time this season, in an exciting Middlesex-Exeter Interscholastic Basketball League contest, 29 to 12, in the Lexington Town Hall, last Friday evening. Moloy, playing left forward for Lexington, was the leading scorer, with 15 points to his credit, and Gaffney, who played three different positions, made eight points. Edgar made the most points for Belmont, with six to his credit. At the end of the first half, Lexington was leading 12 to 0, but Lexington used a number of substitutes in the last half, and allowed Belmont to score.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE CHARLES F. NOURSE

A representative gathering of the business, church, fraternal and social life of the town, was gathered in the home of the late Charles Freeman Nourse, 41 Clarke street, Lexington, on Friday afternoon, of last week, to pay their respects to one who had walked and lived among his fellow townsmen in such a manner as to have gained their respect and love.

Rev. John Mills Wilson, former minister of the First Parish Unitarian Church, where the deceased and family have for a long period of years been prominently identified, conducted the service and made it an impressive and comforting one. And well he could for there was much that could be said in praise of this splendid young man, who has been taken in the prime of life, from his little family, where he was the devoted parent and loving husband, having assisted in making it what it was, an ideal home, from which he went out of on Wednesday of last week, never to return in the flesh, for, as the Minute-Man reported last week, he suddenly passed away, while in the discharge of his duties at the paper store of H. V. Smith, on Mass. avenue, leaving a wife, Elizabeth R. Smith, whom he married nearly eight years ago and two children, Betty and Charles.

The Pilgrim Male quartet of which Mr. Arthur F. Tucker of Lexington is a member, rendered several selections very beautifully. There was a wealth of floral offerings massed about the casket and in the room, coming from business associates, fraternal organizations, church and clubs of which both Mr. Nourse and his wife were affiliated. The bearers, Masonic friends of the deceased, were Robert W. Britton, Amos Holman, M. G. Hopkins, Lester E. Smith, Postmaster Charles H. Spaulding and George Warner, all of this town. The body was taken to the Munroe Cemetery, in this town, for burial in the family lot. A Masonic service was conducted at the grave by Simon W. Robinson Lodge, A. F. and A. M., of Lexington, of which the deceased was a past master. Representative Joseph R. Cotton, worshipful master of the lodge, was in charge of the service.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S GUILD OF FOLLEN CHURCH GIVE A CLEVER ENTERTAINMENT

On Friday evening of last week the Young People's Guild of Follen Church, Arlington, gave an interesting entertainment, followed with dancing in the church vestry. Mrs. Marion Buttrick was chairman of the entertainment, assisted by Miss Florence Page. Mr. Arthur Lowe was in charge of the tickets and Miss Lena McDonald of the refreshments of sandwiches, cake and cocoa, which were served at the close of the evening.

Not for some time has such an enjoyable and varied entertainment been given and all who had a part in it deserve all the praise that was given them for their part in the same. Quite a bit of originality was displayed in several of the numbers.

The program opened with a selection by Mr. John Wright, trombone; Mrs. Emma Hovey, violin; Mrs. Pearl Stoney, at the piano. This trio furnished the music later for dancing. Mrs. Stoney was also the accompanist for the musical numbers given. Mrs. Marion Buttrick gave a vocal solo of a typical song. There was a mandoline duet by Mrs. Horace Lowe, and Mrs. Mabel Bowker, with Mrs. Stoney at the piano and Mr. Earle L. Hadley gave a song and dance dressed in female attire, that met with favor; Mrs. Maurice Page gave the reading, "The Deacon's Confession," that was much enjoyed, as was also the unique number, "The Dance of the Dwarf's." This was executed by Mrs. Mabel Kitten, Mrs. Marion Buttrick and Miss Florence Page. Each was dressed in pillow slip, placed over the head on which was drawn a face. The arms were held upright in each corner of the case to accent the head and body, the case terminating at the waist. Men's trousers and big boots were worn thus competing the grotesque figure. A sketch "Samantha at Saritoga," was given by Mrs. Alexander Wilson as Josiah and Mrs. Maurice Page as Samantha, that brought forth ripples of laughter.

Another feature that was especially well done, was entitled, "A Chime." Four ladies, Mrs. Stoney, Miss Lillian Fletcher, Mrs. Marion Buttrick and Mrs. Edgar Harrod, stood back to the audience with their hair down their backs in long braids. Mr. Alfred Fletcher impersonated the sexton, who made music on the chimes by pulling the braids of the four ladies, each of whom responded with a note which when completed was a tune. There were two old fashioned airs given and two popular numbers.
